Damage By Small Tornado

Twister Hits Ionia And Area Southeast Of Windsor; Much Property Damage

A small tornado, lasting but a few minutes, caused extensive damage in the area including Ionia and southeast of Windsor Saturday night between 7:00 and 7:30 o'clock. The storm was accompanied by heavy rain and hail. Damage was generally confined to barns and other outbuildings, although several homes were damaged.

An estimate was made that no less than 24 barns were damaged in some way, most of them losing their roofs during the storm. There were no reported injuries or casualties.

In Ionia the Ward Garage, a building of tile construction, was completely flattened. The roof was lifted from the structure and deposited against a tree a half-block to the east. A car sitting by the side of the building was untouched and a truck in front of the garage was only slightly damaged when the building collapsed on it.

Buildings Damaged

West of Ionia on the John Combs farm, several outbuildings were demolished and the roof taken from the barn. A small outbuilding, in which a pet lamb was kept, was destroyed. Following the storm, the lamb was at the front door of their house apparently unhurt. Mrs. Combs said she had been looking out of a kitchen window and had just left the window when the storm threw a limb through the window. The Combs house, although not seriously damaged, was moved about two inches south on its foundation. Several windows were knocked out and a small part of the weather boarding was damaged.

Parked Truck Moved

A ton and a half truck parked in front of the Combs home was moved about 75 feet by the force of the wind, but otherwise undamaged.

On the Clarence Riecke farm near Ionia, all of the outbuildings were leveled. The roof was blown from a barn on the Glenn Brown farm and the houses on the farms of Tom Cannaday, Lawrence Funk and J. C. Monroe were badly damaged.

Driving through the area, one could see barns demolished, barns and outbuildings without roofs, houses with weatherboarding ripped off and trees uprooted or otherwise broken.

Several oddities occurred during the storm. One man in Ionia reported the wind had pulled the pump out of his cistern and after the storm he found it was leaning against his house. A small brooder house on the farm of Louis Crannaman, west of Ionia, housing 300 chickens seven weeks old, was turned over on its roof and placed on another chicken house, killing approximately 160 of the chickens.

Barn Over; Contents Saved

A barn containing about 400 bales of straw and hay was blown over on the Arthur Bockelman farm, but the contents were not seriously damaged. This is the third time Mr. Bockelman has had to build a barn, starting in 1908 when he built his first. It was destroyed by a tornado and rebuilt in 1918. This time he says he is going to "build a cyclone barn."

At the farm of Roy Hunt, about five miles southeast of Windsor, a brooder house propelled by the storm, hit the house and ripped off a section of weather boarding. A barn and small shed housing a tractor were demolisher and trees about the place were broken off and scattered about the area.

The entire area was busy Sunday and today trying to rebuild the damaged buildings and cleaning up. Neighbors were helping one another in order to protect material which might be ruined by rain and to get things normal again.

Post-Dispatch Wins 1947 Pulitzer Award

NEW YORK, May 3—(P)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today won the 1947 Pulitzer prize for the most disinterested and meritorious public service rendered by an American newspaper during the past year.

The award was for the coverage of the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster and "the follow-up which resulted in impressive reforms in mine safety laws and regulations."

Great Big Boulders

AUKLAND, N. Z., May 3—(P)—Witnesses said Mount Ngauruhoe, North Island volcano, threw out hot boulders "as big as houses" today. Two mountain climbers had to retreat to safety. One of three volcanoes in the center of the island, Ngauruhoe began to erupt Friday for the first time since 1926. Photographs show no lava overflow.

Find Billboard on Railroad Tracks

ST. LOUIS, May 3—(P)—Alertness of two Missouri Highway Patrolmen may have averted a serious train wreck yesterday, St. Louis-San Francisco (Frisco) Railway officials said today.

Troopers Hozard Fenimore and Paul Archambault were patrolling Watson road near the western city limits when they noticed debris on the highway under the railroad overpass.

They investigated the tracks above the road and found a billboard which they removed. A fast freight passed the point a few minutes later.

Mrs. McMullin Delegate to Philadelphia

Democrats of State Meeting Today in Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY, May 3—(P)—John J. Nangle of St. Louis popped up today as a possible compromise choice for Democratic national committeeman.

His supporters conceded it would be close. And the group backing J. V. Conran of New Madrid promised to take the fight to the floor.

National convention delegates for the Sixth District of which Sedalia is a part, are Hiram Chinn of Springfield and Mrs. Vivian McMullin of Sedalia, delegates; Alice Huston of Windsor and Miss Elva Denning of Nevada, alternates, and W. Y. Foster of Springfield, presidential elector.

None of the three major candidates — Nangle, Conran or Richard R. Nacy of Jefferson City — appeared to have the committeeman job sewed up when the Democrats called their state convention to order at noon.

Overnight the big Kansas City delegation was reported to have switched its support from Conran to Nangle. He also was said to have a sizeable part of the St. Louis vote.

There was little talk in the lobbies about Harry Easley of Webb City who had been mentioned earlier.

The fight for committeeman developed after Robert E. Hannegan of St. Louis quit last winter to become co-owner of the St. Louis Cardinals. He formerly was national chairman and postmaster general.

The Republicans had a similar battle in their state convention Saturday. They ended by electing Howard V. Stephens of St. Louis national committeeman. Then they rounded out a 33-member delegation to the national convention in Philadelphia next month.

As the Democratic fight shaped up, there was no indication of presidential preference.

The president was reported to be staying out of the ruckus. Thomas L. Evans, Kansas City businessman, was said to have the president's backing earlier, but Mr. Truman was described as on the sidelines today, willing to accept the convention's choice.

Conran said he had the race won.

"I'm ready to count," he told reporters last night.

No Comment

Nacy had nothing to say for publication. But his supporters predicted victory for Nacy for committeeman and Mrs. J. V. Billings of Kennett for committeewoman.

Both Mrs. Billings and Conran are from the Democratic "Bootheel" section of Missouri. Under normal political procedure, Conran would be eliminated if Mrs. Billings were chosen.

Mrs. Billings is the wife of a circuit judge who once ran for the supreme court with Pendergast backing.

On the feminine side the fight was between Mrs. Billings and the incumbent, Mrs. Henry Clay Chiles of Lexington, plus two St. Louis county contenders — Mrs. Jesse C. Coleman, vice chairman of the state committee, and Mrs. Schuyler Smith, an attorney.

Besides selecting a national committeeman and committeewoman, the convention's job was to:

Name 16 national convention delegates with a half vote each and ratify 26 district delegates who have a full vote each at the national nominating spree in Philadelphia, July 12.

Select presidential electors.

And adopt a set of resolutions.

Inmates of Boonville TS Went Fishing and Then Ate the Fish

BOONVILLE, Mo., May 3—(P)—Some of the inmates of the Missouri State Training school for boys went fishing yesterday. They were trying out some 150 sets of fishing tackle and accessories presented to the school by the Anglers of Missouri, a St. Louis organization.

Superintendent Bert Fenenga said the 70 anglers tested the equipment in the school lake with "good results." The fish they

Storms Whip Across Seven States, 21 Dead

Property Damage Estimated in The Millions

By the Associated Press

Tornadoes and violent winds whipped across seven states over the weekend, killing at least 21 persons and injuring more than 160.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

West Virginia and Kentucky communities were lashed by tornadoes last night. Twisters hit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains occurred in Indiana and Illinois.

The death toll by states: West Virginia — Six; Kentucky four; Oklahoma five; Missouri three; Kansas two; Illinois one.

In West Virginia, tornado winds ripped through six rural communities near Clarksburg in the northern part of the state. State police reported more than 65 persons were injured.

Hardest Hit

West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit, Mount Clark and Quiet Dell were the communities hardest hit. Highways were blocked and communication lines were down, hampering rescue operations.

In Kentucky a tornado hit Alpha, a town of 140 in Clinton county. The storm wrecked the Davis chapel church where an estimated 125 were attending services. At least 15 persons were reported injured in the county. Many of the injured were in the church.

Deputy Policeman Wiley Gregory said that quite a few houses were destroyed. Alpha is midway between Albany and Monticello near the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

Search Debris

Rescue workers sought additional victims in the debris and mud of the tornado-battered West Virginia communities. Wrecked automobiles, trees and debris from nearby strip-mining operations cluttered U. S. route 19 leading to the damaged town of Hupp Hill, W. Va.

Presentation of the tackle was made by Christy Selzer, president, and George Hammer, director of the organization.

Twenty baseball uniforms, donated to the school by a group of St. Louis business men, were used for the first time yesterday.

Pres. Truman Wires Greeting To His Party's State Meeting

JEFFERSON CITY, May 3—(P)—President Harry S. Truman of Independence, Mo., wired his greetings to his party's state convention today.

The telegram from the White House was read by state committeeman Frank W. Hayes of Sedalia. It follows:

"I am thinking of my fellow Missouri Democrats today as the party of progressive liberalism gathers for the state convention in our capital city which happily bears the name of the founder of the Democratic party.

"In sending hearty greetings to the Democrats of Missouri, I renew my faith that this year, as always, they will be faithful to the principles of our far seeing founder.

(Signed)

Harry S. Truman."

Third Picket Line Blocked

KANSAS CITY, Kas., May 3—(P)—The back-to-work movement at Kansas City's three major strike-bound packing plants appeared erratic today.

G. W. Blevens, superintendent at the Cudahy packing plant, said "quite a few" joined the working force this morning. He said he was unable to give figures because "they're still coming in."

In the first hour, observers outside the plant said there were about thirty-one "walk-ins." The stream of cars going into the plant, however, was larger than usual.

Asked if any of the employees signing up this morning were members of the striking packing house workers union, CIO, Blevens said "the majority of them have worked for us before."

At the Armour & Co. plant, strikers said only one man agreed to go back to work when foremen circulated among the strikers seeking employees who regularly work under their supervision.

Strikers said the one man went back to work because he feared loss of seniority.

Police stationed at the Wilson & Co. plant said no workers had gone in.

Large groups of strikers were gathered at all three plants. At the Cudahy plant an attempt to set up a third picket line was blocked by police. It was at this plant that a number of strikers were injured in a police charge April 23.

This encyclical also asked for prayers for the return of "mutual peace, fraternal and full among all men, and the desired concord between all social classes."

He said that conditions in Palestine and the lack of "tranquillization of minds and hearts" are subjects that "afflict and anguish our heart."

10-Year-Old Girl Pickets Her Father's Office

KANSAS CITY, May 3—(P)—A dentist's 10 year old daughter picketed his office yesterday because she wanted him to go to church with the family instead of working on Sunday.

Dr. Herschel Phillips keeps his office open from 8 a. m. to noon Sundays.

He discovered his daughter, Elsie Marie, marching back and forth before the door, carrying a sign reading: "Unfair to make by daddy work on Sunday. Unfair to his children because we want him to go to church. Elsie."

Dr. Phillips called her in and scolded her but Elsie said afterwards:

"I'm going to picket every Sunday until he stops working."

Stassen Into Ohio to Battle For Taft Votes

Ohio Voters Will Cast Their Ballots All Day Tuesday

By Jack Bell

CLEVELAND, May 3—(P)—Harold E. Stassen came back into Ohio today for his primary battle with Sen. Robert A. Taft, bearing with him tidings of gains in two other states.

Stassen told reporters on his arrival that he had received "good news" in connection with the choice of GOP convention delegates in Missouri and Colorado last Saturday. He declined to elaborate.

Taft and Stassen plan last-minute radio appeals to the voters on state-wide hookups tonight, in which their contest over 23 of the Buckeye state's 53 presidential nominating votes. Ohio voters will cast their ballots from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., (EST) tomorrow.

The Minnesotan went into a round of conferences this afternoon with farm and labor leaders. Taft in Home City

Taft arrived today in his home city, Cincinnati, after a round of speechmaking in northern Ohio. He repeated his expressions of confidence and said:

"Everything looks very good in the northern section of the state. In fact, I cannot think of any district where I cannot win."

The Ohio senator was to address a conference of 58 southern Ohio Rotary clubs at noon, and speak before members of the Cincinnati University Republican club before his radio talk tonight.

Both camps expressed confidence in the results when upward to 700,000 Republicans go to the polls in tomorrow's primary.

Politicians were watching the outcome for its possible effect on foot-loose delegations from such states as Illinois and Pennsylvania, where the bloom of favorite sons might fade quickly.

Taft Expects Illinois

From the Taft camp came reports that a majority of the 56-vote Illinois group is ready to come their way speedily at the national convention.

But the Taft supporters admit privately that unless the senator can stand Stassen off with a half dozen or more delegates from his own vote orchard, the Illinois plums may fall on the other side of the wall.

There is some talk that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's friends may be around to pick them up.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, now campaigning to keep Oregon's 12 convention votes out of Stassen's hands, has his eye on the Pennsylvania delegation, too.

Approve Two-Year Draft Bill

Action by House Armed Services Committee Sends Issue to Congress

WASHINGTON, May 3—(P)—The House Armed Services committee today approved 28 to 5 a two-year draft bill.

The vote puts the issue for selective service formally before Congress for the first time since the war.

Before voting, the committee heard Secretary of Defense Forrestal call the measure "excellent."

"There is an immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces," Forrestal said. "This bill provides it."

The five committee members voting against the bill were Reps. Short (R-Mo.), Bishop (R-Ill.), Philbin (D-Mass.), Haverner (D-Calif.) and Heffernan (D-NY).

Under the senate bill, there would be a draft of men for regular service in the armed forces and a draft of 18-year-olds for training as reserves.

The house bill provides only for Chairman Andrews (R-NY) a draft for regular service.

called Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall in for a final look at the measure before a formal committee vote. Royall said it is "thoroughly acceptable to all the services" Army, Navy and Air Force.

No Provision for Limited Training

The bill did not ask that the committee put in any provision for limited training of 18-year-olds, but Forrestal emphasized that he still believes universal military training is needed.

Andrews has been assured by house leaders that the bill will be called up for debate next week.

As the committee gathered, there was a possibility that one of its members might try to hook a delayed-action universal military training amendment on to the draft bill when it goes before the house. Other members did not think much of the idea.

Andrews stood on the sidelines for this argument. He said the only thing on his mind right now is getting the draft measure out of the committee's hands and on to the floor.

Provisions

These are the bill's principal provisions:

1. It would raise the total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,005,882 — Army 837,000, Air Force 502,000 and the Navy and Marine Corps 666,882. The present total strength is 1,384,500.

2. Men from 18 through 30 would be registered, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service. Men in the 19-26 group could enlist voluntarily in the regular army for two years, but in no other service.

3. Most veterans would be exempted from service, but those under 31 would have to register.

4. Industrial plants could be seized by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armament orders, or if they did not provide equipment at what the secretary of defense considered reasonable prices.

Could Draft Doctors

5. Doctors up to 45 years old could be drafted for two years' service. The armed forces would be allowed to call for doctors up to five percent of their total manpower and dentists up to two percent. At full strength that would put some 100,000 doctors and 40,000 dentists into uniforms, counting those already in service.

6. Ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors would be exempt from service. Objectors willing to perform non-combatant service would be inducted for such service only.

7. Deferments for schooling, dependency and occupation would be determined by the president.

8. The law would expire two years after it went into effect.

The possibility of a UMT rider was brought up by Rep. Towse (R-NJ), author of the training bill which the house rules committee has blocked for months. It was approved by the armed services committee last summer.

Soil Saving Dams In Good Water Management

The above picture of a Missouri low-cost soil saving dam on which the reinforcing wire is just being laid was taken from the upstream side. Such dams are used primarily to prevent cutback in terrace outlets where they empty into creeks and ditches. The one to be built at Sherman Pritchards, May 5th will protect 2 outlets draining 80 acres. It will have a notch twice as wide and an overfall nearly twice as high as the one pictured above.

Plans have been completed to build a Missouri low-cost soil saving dam at Sherman Pritchards, Wednesday, May 5th. The purpose of such a structure is to let water down from the flood of the terrace outlet to the main creek channel without the water cutting back up the bed of the outlet.

The picture above is of such a structure in the process of construction. The earth fill has been shaped and the reinforcing material consisting of hog wire is being put in. The workman shown is Ralph Ricketts, Extension Agricultural Engineer from the University of Missouri. This view is from the upstream side. The picture on last weeks farm page was taken from down stream and showed the completed dam.

The one to be built at Pritchards will protect two outlets that are receiving the terraces from about 80 acres of cropland and pasture. The notch will be twice as wide and the overfall nearly twice as great as the one pictured above.

The Missouri concrete dam is designed to avoid supporting a vertical wall of earth. The dam is constructed on a slope between 1 1/4 and 1 1/2 to 1 and thus utilizes the angle of repose of the soil to avoid the necessity of heavy constructions.

The cutoff wings are also constructed on a slope extending back into the bank which allows the earth to lie on the sloping wing and thus avoids, to a large degree, the tendency of earth to pull away from the structures in dry weather as it often does with a vertical

Bindweed Control By 2, 4-D Use

Pettis county farmers have reason to be happy due to the new control of field bindweed by the use of 2, 4-D.

The old standard method of controlling this most destructive weed was sodium chlorate. This is comparative expensive and left the ground sterile for about 2 years.

If quick control of field bindweed is desired and the crop of grain or pasture is to be sacrificed in the process the 2, 4-D with the ester base should be used at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 pounds acid equivalent per acre. The oily character of the esters make them more effective.

All plants are more susceptible to kill when in the active growth. Many plants seem to develop an immunity when mature or when dormant as in a drouth. Extremely high temperatures by checking growth may contribute to poor kills.

In view of these facts treatment

Dish Meals Can Save Time To Homemaker

Leaders Training Meeting Held On Friday, April 23

"Three dish meals" can save homemakers much time and help her in having the family well fed too said Miss Flora Carl, Field Specialist from the State Extension Service when Foods Leaders from Pettis County Women's Extension clubs met at the First Methodist church for their leader training meeting, Friday April 23rd.

Three dish meals consist of a main dish, a salad and a dessert. Main dishes may be casserole and scalloped dishes, meat and vegetable stews, pies and hash; chowders and soups; or salads. It should contain a starchy food and protein food and may contain a vegetable.

Main dishes may be prepared in the oven, on top of the stove or in the refrigerator depending on the foods used. The kind of salad served with the main dish will be determined by the foods used in the dish. If the main dish is a salad then a vegetable may be served with it instead of another salad.

Miss Carl says that the homemaker family should be sure her family has 2 to 3 glasses of milk for adults and 3 or 4 glasses for children; Tomatoes or citrus fruits, whole grain cereals, a green or yellow vegetable and another vegetable or fruit, meat, fish or eggs and some butter or fortified margarine. If the family has had those then the rest of the food will depend on the needs of the family.

All Helped Prepare Food
The leaders all helped prepare foods for different three dish meals which were served for lunch.

Many of these dams have been built over the state and all that are somewhere near the recommended design have required very little repair. In fact, the amount of maintenance per structure on this type has been much less than with the conventional dams.

The material needed at Pritchards includes 60 bags of cement, 9 yards of creek gravel and 8700 square feet of hog wire for reinforcing material. About 2 days time is needed by a crew to put in such a structure. The work will be started, Tuesday morning and will be completed in time for the meeting Wednesday afternoon. The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p. m., Wednesday May 5th.

The location of the demonstration is 1/4 mile south and 1/4 mile west of the Pritchard home. The Pritchards live 5 miles west of the junction of highways 65 and 52 and 3/4 mile south from highway 52.

Keeping Weeds From Carrots

One of the irksome tasks of gardening is keeping weeds—particularly grass—from carrots. The carrots grow close together and make hoeing difficult, so you usually pull out the grass.

However, here is a way to make the task of keeping the weeds out much easier. It involves the use of naphtha-type fluid commonly used as a dethatching fluid. This is called Stoddard's Solvent, and has been a standard cleaner in homes for many years. It can be sprayed directly onto a weedy row of small carrots and it will do a miraculous job of killing all the weeds and grass and not harm the carrots.

The solvent should be used full strength—no dilution—as a spray when the carrots have two or four fern-like leaves. The amount to apply will depend upon how many weeds are present. Apply just enough to evenly wet the foliage of the weeds and grass. When using this for the first time it is always wise to spray a few feet of the row and observe the results for 48 hours before proceeding with the whole job.

Allan Purdy of the University says that this same treatment works for parsnips, parsley, and dill. It is always better to use Stoddard's Solvent on the crops while young so that the material will volatilize and be completely gone by harvest time. If used on large carrots or parsnips they will have an oily taste which is most unpleasant.

The spray kills only the weeds present at the time of application and doesn't kill those that come up later. There is no harmful residue left in the soil.

However, here are a few pointers about using this material:

Don't spray Stoddard's Solvent on any crops other than carrots, Parsnips, Parsley and dill. Stoddard's Solvent is inflammable so be careful of fires and smoking. Don't use this spray when the temperature is above 90 degrees Fahrenheit.

If you have only a few carrots, count the cost and the trouble—it may be less bother to weed them by hand.

It is well to remember that S-

French Beauty Tip:

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Prying into other glamor girls' secrets with the idea of helping yourself to some useful tricks is a fun. For proof that this snooping can be practical as well, try out the grooming tricks shown in the accompanying photographs.

All of these tricks come courtesy of Paris' top "cover girl."
The pert face and perfect figure of Lise Bourdin, who is touring this country now as "Miss Arch of Triumph," are as familiar to her Parisian public as our own famous cover girls are to their American admirers.

Despite Lise's exalted status, this 22-year-old mademoiselle is practical in her approach to glamor.

Take her ironing trick, shown lower right, of restoring crispness to the wilted veil of a hat. Here she demonstrates her usual method of shielding a veil with a sheet of paraffin paper and using a hot iron to draw out the wax which restores crispness to wilted net or tulle.

Lise also uses her paraffin-pas-ter trick on net evening gowns which grow wilted with wear.
She will cheerfully press yards and yards of billowing tulle to restore freshness.

The immaculate look of her French handmade gloves is such a point of pride with Lise that she washes hers herself and scrubs with a soapy brush while they are on her hands. To prevent disorder of shape while gloves are

Paris' Top Cover Girl Boasts Practical Approach to Glamor

drying, she stuffs each finger with a long firm tubular roll of facial tissue, as illustrated lower left.

Our glamorous model is not only clever at taking care of her own clothes, she is also adept at artfully arranging her own hair.
Her trick of rigging up a prettier soif for evening by using an extra hair piece is one which any girl might take over with the same glamorous results. Lise twists her hair-matching "switch" into a snail-like coil, pictured upper right, secures it to the top of her head and tucks her own hair in around the detachable piece to make a psyche-knot that looks professionally dressed.

Typical of French dressmaker tricks is the one Lise models, upper left, which shows how the low-cut neckline of an evening gown can be more modestly anchored over a girl's bosom by the use of a concealed narrow band of elastic which encircles the chest. The band of elastic which Lise is testing with her finger is tacked to the neckline of her gown at each side of the front opening. This device which keeps the décolletage of an evening gown from looping out from the body is also used by French dressmakers, Lise says, to keep the necklines of bathing suits and play clothes properly anchored.

Adjustments Will Not Affect Quality of Films

Any adjustments made in Hollywood's economic structure will not affect the quality or number of film productions. All economies which have been made have been logical and in keeping with progressive business methods and will be reflected favorably in the photoplays now about to be released, or in those which will follow later in the year.

Authority for these statements in the fact-finding committee formed by local exhibitors, who, spurred by reports of drastic curtailment which gained wide currency recently, determined to check the situation themselves.

"Of all the elements in the motion picture industry we are the ones in actual contact with the public," said a spokesman for the aroused movie men in this area. "It's a very short distance from the box-office to the manager's office. For any alarmed patrons who might make that trip, we wanted to have reassuring data.

Poorly Based Criticism

"We suspected that much of the criticism was poorly based," he continued. "We knew the danger in having necessary post war adjustments misconstrued. Returning personnel had occasioned many changes in the man-power situations. We knew Hollywood had to do a retooling job, replacing obsolete equipment that had run down during the period of wartime scarcity.

"Unquestionably the changes in virtually every business in the particular period would find a reflection in the movie industry. But while confident that Hollywood would not permit such changes to interfere with ultimate quality, we investigated conditions with all the resources at our command to reassure both ourselves and our patrons.

"Our survey was spontaneous, exhaustive and participated in by all exhibitors regardless of their business affiliations or individual film commitments. We interviewed leading figures in Hollywood production, we talked with film distributors in New York and other centers. We invited the comment of trade paper experts and exchanged views and theories with exhibitor groups all over the nation, most of whom, we found, were engaged in similar research.

Hollywood Testimony

"From all we received assurance that quality would be enhanced, not minimized but the most practical and convincing testimony was furnished by Hollywood itself," he stated.

"A quick survey of the photoplays to be shown in Sedalia between now and September 1, a period not arbitrarily selected for any particular display or 'drive' refutes absolutely any theory that production values have been at all adversely affected."

Among the outstanding films mittee to be shown here in the next few months are:

fingers on her left hand. Now this lady's rheumatic pains are gone since she got TRU-AID and she says she can use her left arm as well as her right, in fact she says she simply blesses the day she got this medicine and she feels like an altogether different woman.

Athletics Show Power In 8-0 Win

Miles and Walker
Combine Efforts
For 3-Hit Shutout

The gasoline ignited yesterday morning to dry out the Liberty Park diamond, after a heavy night rainfall must have left a terrific heat in Athletic bats and their pitchers money arms, because they were both plenty hot in their 8 to 0 three-hit shutout victory over the Kansas City Police. Thus the newly organized Sedalia Athletics have made their debut before home town fans a successful one. It may be a little early to make predictions but the word is being whispered around that local fans may have the dream team they've been waiting for.

Heavy hitting, combined with too much pitching on the part of Carl Miles and Bus Walker, proved to be costly in the Kansas City scorebook. Miles, the ex-Missouri star, averaged five strike outs in as many innings, while Walker, the local boy, more than held his own and whiffed two in four innings.

After a scoreless first frame the A's warmed up and came across with three runs in the second. C. Thompson started off the running parade with a single, moved to second on May's sacrifice and counted on a single by Sullivan. Swisher rushed Sullivan in with a tremendous triple. The sudden attack didn't end until Smith brought in Swisher with a single.

The A's picked up their hot bats in the third inning and before the side was retired by the Policemen, they had sneaked three more tallies for the score-board. J. Taylor tripled, coasted in easy on a long fly ball to centerfield by Paul Evans. Thompson came through again with a single and scored on a double by G. May. Sullivan's hit scored May. In the sixth May doubled again to bring in Thompson with the seventh run. The A's cooled their bats for the day in the eighth inning collecting their final run.

Bus Walker looked good yesterday in his stint with Police batters. He had the services of his old battery mate Elwood McMackin, Sullivan handing over the pads to his young receiver at the time Walker came in to pitch. The huge crowd gave Carl Miles a standing ovation as he left for the showers. They saw pitching yesterday they had not seen for awhile.

Roy Stroud, the player who was often seen at short in practice sessions, took over the right field spot in the late innings and performed excellently. Not bad for someone who had not played the position before.

The Athletics take to the road this Sunday for a game at Lawton. They will return here for their second home game May 16 when they play host to the TWA club from Kansas City. This team supposedly is a strong contender in the K. C. semi-pro league this year.

Three Home Run Kings Hit Four Baggers

Lead Respective Teams to More Important Victories

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

This may be a new baseball season, but major league pitchers are finding out, much to their sorrow, that Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Ted Williams still pack that old home run wallop.

Each of the three home run kings of 1947 crashed four baggers yesterday to lead their respective teams to important victories.

Kiner, whose 51 homers tied Mize for the National league championship, cracked two to pace the surprising Pirates to a 6-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburgh. They were his second and third of the season.

The victory was Pittsburgh's eighth against four defeats and enabled the pace setting Pirates to retain their half-game lead over the New York Giants in the National league. The second half of the scheduled twin-bill was postponed by rain.

Mize slammed a home run with one mate aboard to break a 1-1 tie and inaugurate a four-run sixth inning as the Giants went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-1 in New York. It was the slugging first baseman's third home run of the year.

Williams was the whole works in the 7-1 Red Sox triumph over the New York Yankees in Boston. Thumpin' Ted, who paced the American league with 32 home runs last year, banged his fourth home run of the season in the eighth.

Indians Defeated
The rebounding Detroit Tigers handed the Indians their second straight defeat before 57,450 fans in Cleveland 4-2.

The Philadelphia Athletics vaulted into second place by whipping the Washington Senators for the third straight time in the Capital City, 4-3. The second game of the scheduled double-header was postponed by rain.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman pitched a four-hit shutout for Philadelphia in the National league to give the Phillies a split in their double header with Brooklyn. The Phils won the afterpiece 2-0 after the Brooks had pasted four pitchers for a 9-6 win in the first.

Amassing 19 hits off five pitchers, the Chicago Cubs buried the Cardinals under a 13-4 score in St. Louis.

The scheduled double header between the Browns and White Sox in Chicago was postponed on account of rain.

Aim For Few More Marks for Triple Crown

By John Chandler

LOUISVILLE, May 3—(AP)—The "rock-em-and-sock-em" combination of Kentucky Derby record smashers, Calumet Farm's Citation and Jockey Eddie Arcaro, set dead aim today on a few more marks in their quest for the coveted triple crown—America's diadem of three-year-old racing supremacy.

While old Louisville slowly returned to normalcy after Citation and Arcaro showed how a horse race should be run Saturday, all eyes were turned on the approaching Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Usually the Preakness, to be run at Pimlico in Baltimore May 15, comes one week after the Derby but there'll be no hustle and bustle to the railroad car and the trip to Maryland this time. The trainers can bide their time and speculate on the apparent utility of challenging Citation and his nifty-stepping stablemate, Coaltown.

Triple Crown Lineup
The Belmont Stakes at New York follows June 12 and completes the Triple Crown lineup.

Arcaro could be the first jockey ever to ride two Triple Crown colts. Only seven horses have been able to grab the elusive Triple since the first Derby was run in 1875. Calumet's Whirlaway and Eddie himself did the job once in 1941.

The 74th Derby had been tagged for Citation months in advance and the Calumet speedster merely followed the script before some 90,000 at Churchill Downs. He collared his stablemate, Coaltown, coming into the stretch and then won by three and a half lengths. Ben Whitaker's My Request, heavily backed by Texas money, was third and then followed Billings, Grandpere and Escadru, strung out. Citation's time was 2:05 2-5 over the slow track.

The Sedalia Blues lost their opening league game Sunday at Housel park to the Smithton Hornets by a score of 10 to 7. Joe Imhauser was on the mound for the Hornets and only allowed 6 hits and sent 16 batters down the strikeout route, while McKenzie did the receiving.

The Blues used Shultz, Adams and R. Poynter on the mound, Barnes doing the catching. Poynter pitched 2 1/2 hitless innings.

Bohon Leading Batter
Bohon of Smithton was the leading batter, getting 4 hits for 5 times at the plate, while Dee Carver of the Blues got 2 for 4.

Both teams played raggedly, Smithton making 8 errors, while the Blues were making 5.

The Hornets made 15 hits, 10 runs and 8 errors, while the Blues made 7 runs, 6 hits and 5 errors. The game was witnessed by a large crowd.

Manager Seigel of the Blues urges all players to be on time for practice tonight beginning at 5:30 as he wants to do a lot of batting practice, trying to get in shape for Wednesday night's game at Jefferson City. This game is the opening night game at Jefferson City and a dedication is being held at that park in honor of the new lights.

Cubs Defeat Cards 13-4

By The Associated Press

The last place Chicago Cubs broke a four-game losing streak yesterday at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals—13 to 4. Both teams met again today at Sportsman's park.

The Cubs plastered the Cards with a 19-hit deluge, eight of them for extra bases. A homer by Bill Nicholson with none aboard was slammed in the fourth.

The Cubs blasted seven runs in the eighth inning with Hal Jeffcoat accounting for a pair of doubles. Three other hits, an error and two walks contributed to the rest of that inning's scoring.

Russ Meyer, Cub starter was replaced by Bob Chipman in the third and Murry Dickson, the Redbirds' first hurler, gave way to Jerry Staley who got credit for the loss since Al Lang tied the game in the fifth while Staley was still pitching.

Three other Redbird hurlers were called in to try to stop the Bruin fire.

A planned doubleheader between the Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns was rained out. Both clubs head east for road trips.

Minneapolis Loses at Home To Columbus

K.C. Blues Break
a Nine Game
Losing Spell

By The Associated Press

The season's longest winning and losing streaks in the American Association came to an end in Sunday's round of doubleheaders.

Minneapolis missed a chance to take sole charge of second place by dropping a pair to Columbus. The double jolt finished the Millers' eight-game victory span and marked the first time they have been beaten at home this season. Tommy Glaviano led the Redbirds to 9-3 and 6-5 decisions, the second game going an extra inning. In the opener his home run, double and single accounted for three runs. In the nightcap his single drove in the winning tally in the overtime.

Broke Losing Spell
Kansas City broke a nine-game losing spell by downing Toledo 5-1 after dropping the first game 5-4 in 10 innings. The Hens picked up a run in the seventh of the starter and added three more in the ninth. But the Blues staged a four-run uprising for a deadlock. Dick Kokos' pinch single drove in Ellis Clary, who had walked, in the tenth.

Relief pitcher Johnny Mackinson allowed only three hits from the second inning on to guide the Blues to their second game win. Another long winning string was snapped when the Brewers took a 3-2 opening triumph over Indianapolis. It was the tribe's first loss in five games. The Indians capped the second 8-3 for their 10th win in 12 starts and maintained a three-game edge in the lead over Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Louisville Beats Saints
Louisville beat the Saints 5-2 with a three-run rally in the ninth, but St. Paul took the afterpiece 8-0 on Jack Paepke's three-hit twirling.

Danny Ozark, rookie St. Paul first sacker, whammed a homer in each game, and Eric Tipton also homered for the saints in the nightcap.

Minneapolis and St. Paul are now locked in second place each with 11-7 records.

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Four straight rounds in the sixties brought Skip Alexander a six-stroke triumph in the National Capital Open Golf tournament.

He shot the final round—a four-under-par 68—in the rain yesterday for a 271 total that didn't leave runnerup Bobby Locke's 277 even close.

Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., veteran, was third with 280. Skip's winning rounds were 69-66-68-68. The victory brought him $2,200.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., had a 281 for fourth place. Cary

Engle Motors' Jr. Legion Beat Warsaw 12-10

Game Played on Sunday Afternoon
On Warsaw Diamond

The Engle Motors Jr. Legion baseball team played its first full game of the season Sunday defeating the Warsaw team by a score of 12 to 10 on the Warsaw diamond. Neither team is as yet in top form but both teams did turn in some fine plays and Manager Thomas is well pleased with the showing his boys made this early in the season. All of the players saw action in this game.

Manager Thomas is sure that the team, with a little more practice, will develop into a hard hitting and winning ball club.

Game Next Sunday
The Engle Motors Jr. Legion team will play the first home game at Liberty park next Sunday with the Marshall Junior Legion, which also has a fine team. The managers of the Jr. Legion and Ban Johnson teams have agreed to admit the players of the other teams free at all home games.

Otherwise, even Higgins admits he could feel pretty good about his team if that one position could be strengthened.

The AAU Olympic gymnastics meet here Saturday drew capacity crowds of around 6,000 for both afternoon and evening sessions. . . . That probably was the largest gathering ever to see a gym meet in the United States. . . . Dallas followers of Geo. Schepps, who recently sold his holdings in the Dallas Texas league club, figure he will become an executive with a major league team before long. . . . Notre Dame is looking for a crowd of 20,000 at the annual varsity old timers football game May 15.

Bob Chesnes, the Pirates' expensive rookie flinger, is due to make his first major league start some time this week. . . . The Billings, Mont., Pioneer league club is slated to open its home season tomorrow with Bing Crossen and Stanwyck and Robert by Taylor in attendance. They are all stockholders in the club. . . . Wonder who'll get the top billing?

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, May 3—Two years have now passed since this column exposed the fact that Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma was gambling on the commodity market while making senate speeches calculated to influence the market. The story at that time was vigorously denied. And since senators believe each other rather than a mere newspaperman, naturally they did nothing about it. However, six months have now passed since Senator Thomas brazenly reversed his denial and publicly admitted that he had been speculating. As a result, a senate subcommittee supposedly has been investigating Senator Thomas.

But nothing has happened. Not a peep has come out of the senate committee. Reams of additional information regarding Senator Thomas' amazing deals in cotton, silver and the weird characters with whom he gambled, have now been furnished Senator Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee. Ferguson is an able senator. He has a record for cleaning up graft in Michigan.

But so far his committee has been silent. Not long ago, Ferguson issued a report on Howard Hughes in which he discreetly omitted the name of Senator Brewster of Maine, despite the fact that serious charges had been made against Brewster.

However, Brewster is a Republican and so is Chairman Ferguson. Thomas of Oklahoma is not. He is a Democrat and usually Democrats are fair game for Republicans—unless senatorial courtesy is involved.

However, just in case the senate committee still makes an official pretense of being interested in the gambling of Senator Thomas, here is something else.

Thomas' Queer Friends

In 1941, one Mickey Rosner, with an FBI record, walked into the office of A. L. Stamm & Co., New York commodity brokers, in company with Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, and opened an account. He also asked that he receive duplicate copies of all trading statements, implying that one was for the senator from Oklahoma.

Later the account was allowed to lapse. But in 1946, Rosner reopened his account with Stamm. This was at about the time the Washington Merry Go Round published its first expose of Thomas' speculating and when the senator was hitting the market hard.

Rosner opened accounts not only for himself, but for his wife, child, brother and other members of his family. Then, after running his profit up to $75,000, he was suddenly wiped out in a slump.

This brought howls of anguish from Senator Thomas' interesting friend. Telephoning the brokers from Washington, he charged that they had failed to give him sufficient time to cover his margins, threatened to have them investigated by Senator Thomas.

Mickey's Record

To fully appreciate the high, upstanding company Thomas picks for himself, you have to look at Mickey Rosner's record. In 1925 he was convicted of obstructing justice, but the verdict was reversed. In 1936 he fenagled $2,500 out of the Lindbergh family for information on the kidnapping case from Owney Madden and Salvy Spitalo—in information which he never produced. Also in 1936 he was ousted as police chief of Long Beach, N. Y., after a scandal.

Then, in 1939, Rosner strangely turned up as lobbyist for the National Association of Wool Manufacturers and used the office of Senator Thomas to help block a bill requiring wool products to be labeled.

Despite Rosner's record, Thomas let him have the run of his

THE STORY: Patience Mond goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts who have brought her up and with whom she lives in the country. On the commuting train she meets Paul Taylor, who lives in a neighboring village and who finds himself attracted to the prim young girl. They date secretly, fall in love. The aunts find out, force Patience to promise not to see Paul again. Paul wants her to tell them she's going to marry him. But Patience can't do it. They quarrel. Sometime later on the train from London, Patience sees Paul with a flashy blonde, returning home heartbroken. She finds her aunts in a state of great excitement. They have a visitor. It is Charlotte, the long-lost twin sister whom Patience has not seen since they were children.

Patience gasped. It couldn't be possible. Charlotte! How often during the years she'd been living with her aunts had she thought how wonderful it would be to have news of her! "Hello, Patience," said Charlotte. And now the other girl put her arms round her and kissed her. "Gosh, but isn't all this terribly exciting!" She had a soft, musical voice with a trace of an American accent. She was warm and glowing and affectionate. "You two must have so much you want to talk about," said Miss Alice. "Patience dear, would you like to take Charlotte for a little walk before supper?" "Yes, of course. You're staying, aren't you, Charlotte?" "For tonight, yes."

Miss Helen said: "I've told Charlotte she must look upon this house as her home." "You're sweet, Aunt Helen," said Charlotte impulsively. "I'd like to come down a lot." "Where do you live?" asked Patience. "I'm in London at the moment. I only arrived in England from the States last week."

"Charlotte is on the stage, Paatience, holding out her hand to her sister. They went out through the garden door together. Patience glanced sidelong at Charlotte as they crossed the lawn; they vaulted lightly over the stile and set off across the meadows. Suddenly they were both talking at once. "Patience, I've so much I want to ask you."

"Charlotte, what's been happening all these years?" Charlotte said: "Shall we start off one at a time?" "Yes, only let's start with you. With me there's so very little. I expect you've already heard most of it from Aunt Helen and Aunt Alice."

Charlotte laughed and said that maybe she had. "Now," said Patience, "tell me everything. Start right at the beginning."

"Well, you know Daddy kidnapped me, so to speak, when he deserted Mummy? He was an acrobat and I was in his act."

"No, I don't know anything." "When I was 14, Daddy heard that Mummy had died and he married again. A girl in the troupe. I fought like mad with her. When I got a chance to join a juvenile troupe, off I went."

Charlotte had gone to America and then later toured Australia and South Africa. After that she'd returned to the States again, and gotten a job on Broadway understanding the premiere danseuse in a successful review. A night came when she went on in her place.

"And what happened? Were you a star overnight?" Charlotte laughed. "Well, more or less. Anyway, they gave me the part when they sent the show out on tour."

PATIENCE drew a deep breath. "You and me, Twins! To think our lives have been so utterly different. But how did you ever manage to find us?"

"It took a little doing. It was something that I always promised myself I'd do just as soon as I got back to England. You see, I had a little Bible of Mother's. It had her maiden name and the address where they all used to live when they were girls at home with their parents. I went down to that address yesterday and was put on to some old woman who told me the aunts had left a long while ago and gone to live at a place called High Ditch, not far from Bishops Stortford."

Patience couldn't speak for a moment. Her heart was too full. She'd forgotten for a few blessed moments how unhappy she was about Paul.

Charlotte looked at her affectionately. "Now that we've found each other, we'll have grand times together. We'll go off on a holiday just as soon as I can manage it. We might even fly to Paris. I want to get some clothes over there."

Patience caught her breath. Fly to Paris!

"Oh, Charlotte, they'd never let me. Aunt Helen would be quite horrified."

Charlotte looked at her without speaking. Patience, she decided, was a completely new species to her. She thought, with a mixture of pity and irritation, that maybe it was a blessing that she, Charlotte, had happened on her before she grew much older. Something certainly needed to be done about her!
